Studio Profile FAQs

What will the final video look like?

Here are some online samples. Click any image to view on YouTube:

I'm terrible in front of a camera! Could I do a good interview?

We've been interviewing and profiling people for many years. Our interviews are structured more like a conversation than formal interviews. We'll be talking with you about the things in your professional life that you do every day, and at which you are an expert.

You may be surprised how well people come across when they are talking about the business they love. We'll guide you through the session and always help you look your best.

Do I have to have music? Can I use my own ?

We can suggest several royalty-free musical tracks or other low-cost options. If you want to use your own music, you need to be able to show proof that you have ownership rights to use it. Or you may choose to use no music at all.

Can you photograph me at my office or other location for additional video coverage (often called "B-roll")?

This package rate does not include location B-roll shooting or editing. If you have existing footage, it may be added for an additional cost.

MotionPost is a full service production company. If you are looking for a more in-depth profile of you or your office, we'd love to talk with you about it. Just ask. No obligation.

What do people do with these videos?

We're seeing them used:

- To augment an online resume
- To enhance website content and biographies
- As part of social media campaigns on Facebook, Linked in, and YouTube

A Profiles in Motion video is a great sales tool for your business, for your team, and for you as an individual professional.
